

The Military Intelligence Museum

Mission 2:

Design a spy gadget

SHARING THE SECRET

Life is very dangerous for a spy. They need the right tools to help them to:

1. Gather useful intelligence
2. Communicate with their support networks
3. Protect themselves from the enemy
4. Find their way in unfamiliar places
5. Commit sabotage (blowing things up!)

However, they need to disguise their tools and equipment so that no one knows who they are or what they are up to!

Spy gadgets often pretend to have another use. Take a look at some of the objects we have at the Military Intelligence Museum. Can you guess their secret function?

Can you design your own spy gadget? Draw it in the box below and write down what it is secretly used for.
